The best extrication glove has to be more than just an extrication glove; an adaptable, versatile, and dexterous glove that you can trust – that's what first responders asked for. The answer is the EXT Rescue® 4013, with high-grip TP-X® palm for increased durability, and our advanced impact-protective technology. This multifaceted tool gives you level A8 cut-resistance on the palm, keeping you protected from threatening sharp edges. We also added an anti-debris SlipFit® cuff, for rapid on and off between missions. The most flexible rescue glove available, the EXT Rescue® 4013 also offers the comfort and durability to serve alongside our courageous first responders. With so many lives depending on you, HexArmor® wants your hands in dependable gloves.
